

INNER TUBE

Talking a blue streak about Saget's act

Comic Bob Saget, who became a household name on "Full House" and "America's Funniest Home Videos," says part of the audience gets upset that he's a potty-mouth onstage.

"I guess it bothers some people," Saget says in an interview in the May edition of Playboy. "I've gotten positive and negative reactions. People watch my standup and then say things like, "How can you taint your image like that? You had this wonderful family image, and then you tainted it."

BOB SAGET

Of course, Saget goes on from there, using language we can't reprint.

"I was always a little filthy," Saget says. "I had to be toned down for 'Full House,' but we had a lot of fun on the set. My co-stars John Stamos and Dave Coulier and I were always getting in trouble and making loud, inappropriate comments. Let's just say there was a lot of scolding going on."

Richard Huff

Dots all ...

Gay pay-cable network Here! has signed a development deal with Elizabeth Keener ("The L Word") for a drama series that revolves around a lesbian FBI agent played by the actress. ...

JOE NOLAN

Metro Traffic's Joe Nolan, who handles traffic for WABC/Ch. 7 and WPLJ's "Scott and Todd in the Morning," returns to WSOU radio at his alma mater, Seton Hall, next Monday as part of a 60th-anniversary celebration that includes a "throwback day." Nolan will deejay in the morning, as he did from 1977-79. Nolan's 21-year-old son, Brad, is the news director at WSOU. ... ABC's "World News" kicks off a series tonight at 6:30 called "21 and the World is Yours," looking at how 21-year-olds in India, Egypt, China and Kenya view life and comparing them with Americans of the same age.

