America's premium gay television network unveils a diverse mix of original scripted series and network specials

June 6, 2011 (NEW YORK) — here! TV, the world's leading premium gay television network, today announced gay television's largest and most ambitious original programming slate of new original programming currently in production and development. The new series and specials span a diverse mix of genres and introduce fresh new concepts. The network also reimagines fan favorite and network staple Dante's Cove with a new chapter in the mystical saga, Dante's Cove: Book of Tresum.

"Our reinvigorated production and development slate demonstrates here! TV's commitment to investing in an unprecedented amount of high-quality, provocative, and entertaining original programming. The ever-expanding lineup is being created specifically for our loyal audience with programming that cannot be seen anywhere else," said Eric Feldman, here! TV's Executive Vice President and General Manager. "We are most excited to announce the return of the wildly successful cult favorite Dante's Cove. Book of Tresum will delight the die-hard fan as well as the thrill new viewers worldwide."

Series the network currently has in production and development include (all titles listed are subject to change):

In Development:

Dante's Cove: The Book of Tresum (eight episodes; 30 minutes) Premieres Late Fall 2011 — The Dante's Cove saga continues as the secrets, intrigues, and mysteries of Dante's Cove arise far away from its island origins. The new chapter begins as the protectors of the "Book of Tresum" seek out the only individual who can unite the Houses of the Sun and the Moon.

She's Living for This (six episodes; 30 minutes) Premieres Late Fall 2011 — This nod to '70s variety shows (think The Carol Burnett Show and Sonny & Cher meet Laugh-In) stars drag superstar Sherry Vine and a cavalcade of comic sidekicks. Featuring songs, skits, and short films, this comedy promises to tickle the funny bone.

Go-Go Boys (eight episodes; 30 minutes) Premieres Late Fall 2011 — Four sexy New York go-go boys guide viewers through the wild life of the city's untamed and unpredictable underground gay nightclub scene.

It's My Party (eight episodes; 30 minutes) Premieres in 2012 — The cameras follow six nightlife promoters as they plan the most popular parties in the country. Find out what's hot, what's not, and how to saunter past the velvet rope and strut into the VIP section.

Alphabet Boys (six episodes; 30 minutes) Premieres in 2012 — Two bohemian art school graduates and their female roommate get into all sorts of hilarious antics as they navigate New York City's professional and social worlds.
